

Right to Data Portability

When can I receive my personal data in machine readable format from Cooney Carey?

You will receive your personal data concerning you in a structured, commonly used and machine-readable format if:

- processing is based on consent;
- processing is carried out by automated means.

Would Cooney Carey transfer the personal data to another service provider if I requested this?

We can transfer this data to another company selected by you on your written instruction where it is technically feasible taking account of the available technology and the feasible cost of transfer proportionate to the service we provide to you.

Under what circumstances can Cooney Carey refuse?

You will not be able to obtain, or have transferred in machine-readable format, your personal data if we are processing this data in the public interest or in the exercise of official authority vested in us.

Will Cooney Carey provide me with my personal data if the file contains the personal data of others?

We will only provide you with your personal data, ensuring we protect the rights and freedoms of others. Where personal data of another person may be on the same files as yours, we will redact the full details of the other person.
